

What NOT to Pack

As a matter of public safety, the US Department of Transportation makes it illegal for household movers to transport certain items. These items come under the broad heading of Hazardous Materials, and special licenses are required to handle them. Therefore, please do not pack any of the following items:

- Bleach
- House Paint
- Open containers of liquids
- Propane tanks or cans

- Gas or oils

- Butane

- Ammunition

- Open alcohol containers

- Open non-sealed food containers

- Aerosols

- Fire Extinguishers

- Welding Gas

- Antifreeze

- Disinfectant cleaners (especially those containing bleach or ammonia)

- Perishable foods
- Items with excessive odor.

In general, if an item is flammable, combustible or explosive DON'T pack it.
